

Recycle, Now More Than Ever!

Discussion and Film Screening

free

Garbage Dreams (excerpt) and Gone Tomorrow: the Hidden Life of Garbage

Wednesday, February 8, 2012
6:30 pm - 8:30 pm

Location: Newtown Creek Visitor Center

See the “garbage villages” in Cairo, where residents take it upon themselves to clean the city and make recycling their sole source of income, then journey to the US to examine how patterns of consumption and waste changed post WWII. Movies will be followed by a workshop where you will learn how to recycle more than 50% of your household waste.

Presented by GrowNYC

Directions to the Newtown Creek Visitors Center:
329 Greenpoint Avenue, Brooklyn, New York 11222

Subway: G train to Greenpoint Avenue Station
(Walk east on Greenpoint Avenue, cross McGuinnes Boulevard and Provost Street.
Walk to traffic light. Entrance will be on left.)

Bus: B24

Car:

- Take the Long Island Exp. I-495 W toward MIDTOWN TUNNEL (RT-25 W)
- Take exit #15/VAN DAM ST onto QUEENS MIDTOWN EXPY
- Continue straight on BORDEN AVE
- Make a U-Turn at 31ST PL onto BORDEN AVE
- Turn Right on VAN DAM ST
- Bear Right on GREENPOINT AVE
- Go over JJ Byrne Memorial Bridge and continue on GREENPOINT AVENUE
- Entrance is on the right on GREENPOINT AVE & HUMBOLDT ST.

Parking is not available on site.

Visit DEP's website at www.nyc.gov/dep
Follow us at www.facebook.com/nycwater

Michael R. Bloomberg, Mayor
Carter H. Strickland, Jr., Commissioner